years on...

you can make a difference by challenging prejudices and bring about compassion and real understanding around HIV.

Parts of the world's populations have been devastated by HIV and AIDS, most notably Africa.

Throughout the World, December 1st is World AIDS day. Make it count by raising awareness of HIV and how to prevent it to your community, church, group or organisation. Whatever our backgrounds, beliefs and our own personal values, we all share compassion and the ability to understand, care and respect others.

With your help we can improve the lives of those people who have been affected.
